

CONTROVERSY NEARLY FATAL

John Brandt in Hospital the Victim of a Religious Controversy

John Brandt, a German settler of Stony Plain, is an inmate of the Public Hospital, the victim of a religious controversy, and John Ambuster, of the same settlement, is in the Mounted Police guard room, charged with having assaulted him.

Not much has been learned about the causes of the quarrel, but it seems that Brandt and Ambuster had had some religious differences which lasted several months, and which grew more acute as time wore on. On Wednesday evening last, so it is charged, Ambuster and another whose name has not yet been learned by the police, waylaid Brandt and beat him with clubs until he was in a state of insensibility, and went away and left him on the road. Brandt is an old man, very hard of hearing and in none too rugged a condition physically, but he recovered consciousness and managed to reach his home where he was found by neighbors next day and on Friday brought to the hospital here. Information was laid against the assailant, whom he was able to identify, and he was also brought in on Saturday afternoon. As Brandt is still unable to get out of bed, the case could not be gone ahead with this morning, but the old man is making very good recovery and he will probably be in a condition to give evidence in two or three days. The police in the meantime are looking for the other man.

HOCKEY TONIGHT

The deciding game for the Calgary Brewing and Malting Co. cup between Strathcona and Edmonton, will be played in the Thistle rink this evening. This is the last of the season, and promises to be about the most exciting. The ice will be in good shape.

The Adventure of Marriage

(With apologies to T. P.'s Weekly)
IN A POSITION TO MARRY.

Let us first consider the individual case of the man who is in a position to marry, and whose affections are not employed. Of course if he has fallen in love, unless he happens to be a person of extremely powerful will he will not weigh the pros and cons of marriage; he will merely marry and forty thousand come will not prevent him.

FREEDOM

If he has reached the age of thirty unattached by Aphrodite, he will reflect that that peculiar feeling of romantic expectations with which he gets up every morning would cease to exist after marriage, and it is a highly agreeable feeling! In its stead, in moments of depression, he would have the feeling of having done something irremediable of having definitely closed an avenue for the outlet of his individuality.

Other ideas will also suggest themselves. One morning while brushing his hair he will see a gray hair, and however young he may be, the anticipation of old age will come to him. A solitary old age! Awful! Unthinkable! He reflects further. Suppose he marries, and after twenty years his wife dies and leaves him a widower! He will still have a solitary old age and a vastly more tragical one than if he had remained single. Marriage is not therefore, a sure remedy for a solitary old age. Suppose his wife, having loved him, ceased to love him, or suppose he ceased to love his wife! Can choose as he commands—these things do not command themselves. However, just as he is about to say, "some beer is better than other beer, so no marriage is bad. The chief reward of marriage is something which marriage is bound to give—companionship, whose mysterious interestness nothing can state. A man may hate his wife so that she can't thread a needle without annoying him, but when he dies or she dies, he can say: "Well I was interested."

THE HOME

Having taken such an important step as matrimony, the question next in importance, is when and how shall we live. For the first year a cottage of five or six rooms will probably be large enough (unless the happy couple come from Welskivinn)—Such a cottage can be bought for say $1,500, to $2,000, and if money is not plentiful, and it seldom is with the benefit, a loan can be procured from an investment and loan company, payable in monthly instalments giving as security the newly purchased house, one of the best of such companies is represented by the firm whose name appears below and who will publish in this space a list of desirable houses for sale.

BELI FLYING MACHINE

Telephone Man Turns His Attention to Aerial Navigation

Brantford, Mar. 11.—At the banquet given here last night to Prof. Bell, the inventor of the telephone, the latter turned to another line of invention on which he is working, that of a flying machine. He declared that a machine had already been invented that would fly twenty-four miles in 38 minutes. In the near future he said the invention would be perfected, and before long he added flying machines would be as common as telephones. These machines would be particularly valuable and dangerous in warfare.

RE THE G. T. P. AGREEMENT

Editor Bulletin:

In your issue of March 8th, you state that the original agreement with the G.T.P. Railway provided that the city should give the G.T.P. entry over the same ground as the Canadian Northern Railway, but that this was impossible as the legal interpretation of the city's agreement with the C.N.R. would not permit anything of the kind.

On reference to the G.T.P. agreement you will find that the G.T.P. was to be given rights along, not over the C.N.R. right-of-way, over any lands owned by the city and over intervening streets, and that, only so far as the city without additional expense could give, and all was subject to the ratification of a by-law.

There is nothing impossible to carry out this agreement. It assumes that the G. T. P. will enter the city side by side with the C.N.R. and that the city will give certain running rights so far as the city has then to give.

GALICIAN KILLED IN WINNIPEG STABBING AFFAIR

In a Quarrel Over a Woman Fred Kryk Inflicts Fatal Injuries on Tomka Korchniski--Several Arrests Made

Winnipeg, Mar. 11.—As the result of a stabbing affray Saturday night, Tomka Korchniski, a Galician is dead and Fred Kryk, another Galician will have to answer the charge of murder. Four other men and Sophie Koyk, a female, who lived in the same room with the deceased and accused have also been arrested. The stabbing took place at the back of the house about 9 o'clock. Fred Kryk stuck the knife, a sharp Swedish blade, seven inches long into Korchniski, who staggered to the yard of a Polish neighbor. Hearing the cries of the wounded man, the Poles rushed out and assisted by others who had witnessed the deed carried him into the house, where he expired immediately.

The trouble started between Kryk and Korchniski while going home on a street car. They had been drinking and got into hot words over Sophie. Arrived at Magnus street they went upstairs and Korchniski threw himself on the bed and began to sing. Kryk told him to shut up and more words followed. Kryk then went outside and Korchniski followed him. In the yard the row was renewed. Kryk then drew a knife and plunged it twice into Korchniski wounding him first in the right shoulder and then in the breast. Several of the occupants who had followed the man out helped carry Korchniski into a house where he died. Two hours later the arrests were made.

All Previous Records Shattered

The building record for the month of March this year is going to so far overshadow that of any previous year that there will be no comparison when the returns are all in. Already, for the first ten days of this month, there have been four times as many permits issued as for the entire month of March last year and the indications are that the applications have hardly started to come in. During March, 1905 there were issued altogether $10,400 worth of permits, almost all of which were taken out during the latter part of the month. For the first ten days of this month the total permits issued, up to Saturday night, called for $40,300 worth of building. This morning there were over $4,000 worth of permits issued before 10 o'clock, which is supposed to be the hour at which the building inspector's office should open. One was for a residence to be built by Geo. A. Miller, to be on the east side of Syndicate, to cost $2,500, another was for a residence in block 6, Norwood, to be built by F. Tishart, and the third for a residence for David Walks on the east side of Donald street between Saskatchewan and Calgary.

The permits so far issued are all for what might be considered comparatively small buildings. When the heavier orders commence to come in, which will undoubtedly be before the end of the month, the total will mount up very fast and it will not be at all surprising to see the March Building record go well over $100,000. The indications are that this record will be surpassed early in the present season, probably before the end of May.

Suicide at Lloydminster

Lloydminster, Mar. 12.—An Englishman, by the name of Middleton, committed suicide at half-past twelve o'clock last night, by shooting himself with a revolver. He had been spending the last couple of weeks on his homestead and had been staying with a friend for the last two days. He had been very despondent. He got out of bed last night and went outside. His friend grew suspicious and alarmed at his absence, got up to look for him. He rode over to deceased's cabin, half a mile distant, and found him lying in the door way dead. Deceased was in fairly good circumstances and the only reason that can be assigned for the rash act is despondency. Deceased had remarked to a friend a day or so ago that if he stayed alone much longer he would go crazy.

Strathcona Buys Electric Plant

Contracts are to be let in Strathcona this afternoon for the electric plant which the city across the valley is going to buy for the municipal lighting and power plant. The Bobb Engineering Co. has already been awarded the contract for the 200-h.p. boiler, which will be installed to generate the power for the plant.

The indications are that the city will buy two complete units, one 225 K. W. direct connected, and one 75 K. W. direct connected, the two being capable of developing sufficient energy to keep 6,000 lights going.

The old plant is to be discarded altogether and will in all probability be sold to some smaller town. Strathcona has already had an offer for the plant from the new town of Stettler, on the Lacombe branch. At present Strathcona is buying its "juice" from Edmonton, and is taking 240 kilowatts per 10 hours.

When the Strathcona service has been discontinued, Edmonton will have a large surplus power, although at the present rate of growth it will be taken up before long.

PAKAN NEWS.

Pakan, Mar. 10.—The telegraph reports snow today to the East and West of us, but none here. Sleighing is well nigh gone.

Large quantities of whitefish are passing through here from Touchwood Lake, near Lac la Biche, 85 miles north of here, en route for the United States markets, via Edmonton. This promises to develop into a large business in the near future.

The Mitchell Milling Company are re-fitting the flour mill and will be open for business in a few days. They are installing a very complete plant.

Mr. Ed. McAdam, Managing Director of the Edmonton Iron and Coal Mining Co. which has its headquarters here, got today for the mines, which are about 15 miles north east of here. Mr. McAdam is actively improving and developing this valuable property. The company holds large areas of both metal of a high quality and limestone iron ore bodies which have assayed at high percentages. The further development of these properties will be energetically prosecuted during the coming summer.

Swift's lumber camp, under the capable management of Mr. C. Bonar, is working overtime at Smoky Lake limits and a large quantity of first class spruce lumber is now piled on the bank of the Saskatchewan a little above here, in readiness for shipment down stream as soon as the ice goes out.

Mr. L. S. Dore arrived today from Clover Bar to locate permanently on his ranch near here. We are pleased to receive such additions to our community.

Secretary-Treasurer Harper is as busy as a "miller" these days getting in his work on us on the Local Improvement District and School taxes.

The Public school will re-open on or about April 1st. "Victoria" townsite, which is being placed on the market by Mr. J. A. Mitchell, our general merchant and miller, is attracting favorable notice from many quarters and sales of lots are reported to parties in Edmonton and Port Saskatchewan.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mowat and Miss Margaret Mowat returned on the C. N. R. delayed train yesterday from Toronto, where they have been spending the winter.

NORTHERN NAVIGATION

Athabasca Channel Can Be Deepened at Small Cost

Athabasca, Mar. 10.—Mr. Paul Paradis, Government Engineer, who has been down the Athabasca River as far as Port McMurray, to see what will be necessary to be done to improve navigation for steamers, returned here today and reports very favorably on the prospects of having the channel cleared at a very small cost. He also examined the overland road between House River and Port McMurray and finds this road can also be opened with a great deal of trouble. It is much colder here today and freights are still leaving in large numbers with freight for Lesser Slave Lake.

Saskatchewan House Opens on March 29th

Regina Mar. 12.—The first session of the first legislative assembly of the Province of Saskatchewan will open Thursday, March 29th. This is the official announcement made by Premier Scott.

ELECTRIC MAINS EXTENDED.

Two new extensions are being put in this week to supplement the city's lighting and power plant. One is going in on First street, from the corner of MacKenzie, on the south side of the C.N.R. track, to Columbia, on the north side, thence along Columbia for three blocks to the Brackman Ker warehouse, to serve power for a 5 h. p. motor which has been installed there to run the elevator and grain cleaning plant. One other extension is going in on Namayo, from the end of the line, now at Ellisabeth, to Boyle street, to serve a motor working in Mr. Liefke's chopping plant and intermediate users of light. A substantial permanent pole line is being put in in both places.

THIRTY YEARS IS THE LIMIT

For Future Franchises to Manitoba Corporations

Winnipeg, Mar. 14.—That hereafter in all charters in which power is asked to use any of the streets and highways of a municipality for the operation of street railways, the supplying of light, heat, water or power and any other purpose in connection with such undertakings, the time shall be limited for any or all such purposes to a term not exceeding thirty years. The above resolution was passed Saturday morning by the private bills committee of the legislative assembly, when considering the bill to incorporate the Bonnet Falls power company.

A deputation from the Winnipeg Presbytery waited upon the provincial government and discussed the 'question of moral reform. The delegation presented the amendments to the liquor act which were sanctioned as desirable at the last meeting of the Winnipeg Presbytery. The Government promised consideration of the suggested amendments.

THE FORT TOOK IT BACK.

The possibilities of a civic strife between Edmonton and Port Saskatchewan are all off and diplomatic relations have been resumed on the same old terms, the telephone quarrel having been amicably adjusted. A short time ago the city authorities in Edmonton were notified that a tax of $50 per annum had been levied on the municipal telephone, as a corporation doing business in that town. The city of Edmonton played back by raising the telephone rate from $20 to $24 a year and half the subscribers of the Port promptly retaliated by ordering their telephones out. For a few days it looked as though the Edmonton system was to suffer from a mild manner of boycott at the hands of the Port citizens, but the city council extended the olive branch by ordering that a 25 per cent rebate be given to subscribers on all long distance calls. The conciliatory spirit displayed by the Edmonton council was met half-way by the Port subscribers, and on Saturday afternoon Agent Daniels, who handles the telephone business for the city in the Port reported that all the telephones which had been cancelled were ordered re-installed and everything was calm.

EMBRYO CITY ON THE C. N. R.

Mannville is Getting Itself Surveyed and Wants a Mail Service at Once—Talk of a Deputation to Ottawa

R. G. Scott, and C. Yardley Weaver of Mannville came up the line Saturday and spent Sunday in the city. Mr. Scott going home last night and Mr. Weaver staying in the city to wind up some business here before going down the line again.

Mr. Scott is one of the most enthusiastic boosters of the Mannville district. The townsite is only being surveyed now, but he stated that he had the townsite been surveyed and put on the market with a clear title at the same time they would have had almost as big a town as Vermilion or Vegreville. As it is, there is a three-story hotel, three restaurants, two general stores, and another going up, two implement agencies, two livery barns and a lumber yard. Mannville is the centre of three school districts and two postal routes radiate from there.

Mannville is forty-three miles east of Vegreville, and sixteen miles west of Vermilion and right in the famous Vermilion valley. The country surrounding it is already settled up and there is not a homestead within fifteen miles of the railway. Land is selling at $15 an acre. It is the nearest railway point to the place where the G. T. P. crosses the Battle River, and is the best place for settlers going in here. In fact, it is the distributing point for all the country for forty miles to the south and to the northern limit of settlement.

The people of Mannville are very much exercised about the mail service. Up to the present time the post office has been over in the old town, which was established in pre-railway days, on the trail, some three miles from where

A NEW ERA ON THE INTERCOLONIAL.

(Montreal Herald)

The Intercolonial Railway was born out of the controversy which produced Confederation. Ever since its affairs have been the subject of discussion. Criticism was never more busy with the road than today.

Last year a deficit of almost two million dollars arose to activity both the friends and the enemies of the Intercolonial. The friends have demanded a reform in the management to produce better results. The road might be saved. The enemies have no urgent improvement, but have pointed to the deficit and endeavored to realize benefit for themselves out of the unpopularity of the financial showing. The Government has been told that it should place the road under the management of an independent commission, that it should be sold, or, if it is away, do anything to get rid of its deficit.

The friends, the enemies, and those who have no feeling toward the road will be interested to learn that the Government is at present minded to do none of these things except the last. There is going to be no commission, no lease, no sale, no gift. However the deficit is to go. In fact it has gone, and members of the Government declare that it has gone forever. When the heavy deficit of last year was announced the people who most keenly appreciated the dangerous situation were the Minister of Railways, the employees of the Intercolonial, and the people who, living along the line, are served by it. They apparently came simultaneously to the conclusion that something had to be done to set the Intercolonial right in the opinion of the rest of Canada.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson, had been kept so busy in Parliament by long sessions that he had not become familiar with the affairs of the road. At the close of last session he secured a talented man as his assistant and set out the system of Government railways as it had never been gone over before, looking for leaks. Every branch of the service was examined and all were invited to tell what was the matter with the Intercolonial and what should be done to make it pay. Treated as partners in the enterprise and put upon honor, the trackmen, trainmen, yardmen, station men, and dispatchers frankly explained the technical faults in the operation of the road, and prescribed remedies. Mr. Emmerson and Mr. Butler found leaks, some large and some small. Coal administration, train demurrage, too lavish train service, and too low passenger and freight rates were among their discoveries.

When they returned to Ottawa they set out to apply remedies. The time has been taken and many of the reforms decided upon have not even been inaugurated, but the operation for the first six months of the present year has produced a surplus. The number of passenger trains has been cut down, the rates have been lifted a little in some places, the trains have been made larger and are being run to better advantage. The millennium has arrived on the Intercolonial, though the critics of the road have not yet realized it, though some of the other railway systems have not yet given up hope of being able to get possession of the road.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that application will be made to the Parliament of Canada, at the next Session thereof, for an Act to incorporate a company under the name of "The Pacific and Eastern Railway Company" with power to construct, equip, maintain and operate a line or lines of Railway of standard or other gauge by means of steam, electricity or any other kind of motive power, from the City of Victoria in the Province of British Columbia, thence Northerly to a point at or near the Northerly end of Vancouver Island by the most feasible route, thence to the mainland to a point at or near Butte Inlet, thence Easterly through the District of Cariboo, via the Yellow Head Pass, to Edmonton, thence Easterly to a point at or near Prince Albert, thence Northerly by the most feasible route, to Fort Churchill on Hudson's Bay; and also a branch line from Edmonton to Devanville and the Peace River, with such powers, rights, and privileges as are incidental or necessary thereto, including the power to build, purchase, charter, or otherwise acquire steam and other vessels to be operated as ferries and to operate such vessels as ferries at any point on the route of said railway, where the operation of ferries may be considered necessary for or advantageous to the operation of said railway or its branches; and to construct, equip, and operate telegraph and telephone lines in connection with the said railway and its branches and to transmit messages for commercial purposes and charge tolls therefor; and to generate electricity for the supply of light, heat and power and to acquire and develop water powers for that purpose and to lease, sell, distribute and otherwise dispose of the same; and to build, purchase, charter or otherwise acquire steam and other vessels for the carriage of passengers and freight and to operate the same in connection with said railway; and to construct, operate and maintain irrigation canals; and to build, purchase, lease or otherwise acquire work and operate grain elevators and other warehouses and carry on a general warehousing business, and purchase grain and other freight and sell or dispose of the same and construct and maintain docks, dockyards, wharves and piers at any point or points in connection with the said railway and at the termini thereof or at any point of call of any of the company's vessels, for the accommodation of vessels, elevators and warehouses; and to build, purchase, lease or otherwise acquire hotels and theatres at any point or points along the line of said railway; and to maintain, operate, and conduct such hotels and theatres; and to receive from any Government, person or Corporation in aid of the construction, equipment and maintenance of the said railway and of any line of steamships or vessels running in connection therewith, or otherwise, grants, of land, bounties, loans or gifts of money or securities for money and to purchase or lease from any Government, person or Corporation any lands, rights or privileges and dispose of such subsidies or aids in such manner as may be deemed most advantageous to said Railway Company; and purchase, take over, lease or otherwise acquire the property, rights or franchises of any other Companies and to lease or sell to any other Company the property, rights and franchises of the Company.

GRAIN PRODUCTION IN ALBERTA

The crop statistics for 1905 published by the Provincial Department of Agriculture afford evidence of the gratifying development of the grain growing in Alberta. The crop area is shown to have increased annually for several years with remarkable rapidity and as this has been accompanied by no appreciable lowering of the average yield the result has been an increase in the total production from 2,800,440 in 1898 to over 13,000,000 bushels in 1905. The area under grain crop last year was 415,617 acres, compared to 298,433 acres in the preceding year.

The oat crop headed the list last year by a long lead, comprising over nine of the thirteen million bushels of grain produced, compared with 1,734,197 bushels in 1898. Barley came second with 1,773,914 bushels against 279,826 bushels in 1898. Spring wheat secured third place with a yield of 1,617,505 bushels, compared with 792,417 bushels in 1898. The most rapid increase was in fall wheat, the earliest record of which is for 1901, when 82,418 bushels were produced. Last year the production reached 689,019 bushels. The production of flax increased from 4,475 bushels in 1902 to 2,337 bushels in 1905. Of speltz 2,423 bushels were grown in 1904 and 4,419 bushels in 1905.

The returns for the various districts very effectively dispel the illusions which have recently been conjured up by the Calgary Herald as to the relative production of grain north and south of Red Deer. To illustrate the exact proportions of this production the aggregate returns for the district are reproduced below. The Red Deer district being the disputed territory the crop of that district is divided equally between the southern and northern portions. Nor is any account taken of the grain produced in district No 17 from which authoritative reports are unobtainable.

By no means the least interesting of the report is that which deals with the northern districts of the Province, the settlement along the Peace and Spirit rivers and on Grand Prairie. While the final figures of the yield cannot be procured the production of wheat and barley in those districts amply justifies the claims which have been advanced as to their agricultural capabilities. The aggregate production is placed at about 14,000 bushels of grain two-thirds of which was wheat. This amount, while not large in itself, as the annual production of a district three hundred miles from a railway and dependent absolutely on the local demand for a market gives high promise of the rapid development in grain production which will follow the construction of railways through the fertile north.

THE ASSAULTS OF PUBLIC RIGHTS

The circumstances connected with the holding of the elections in the Peace River constituency amply justify the establishment of the two electoral divisions in the northern portion of the province as the only arrangement possible for providing the people of those districts the right of a voice in the selection of their representative in the Provincial Parliament, and quite as amply substantiate the charge of a year ago that in opposing such establishment the Federal Opposition proposed practically if not intentionally to disfranchise a portion of the people of this Province.

Under the present law Provincial elections in the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan must be held under the provisions of the North West Elections Ordinance. By this Ordinance a time limit is fixed between the issue of the writ for an election and the date of nomination. When the ordinance was framed only the comparatively well-settled and relatively easily accessible portion of the North-West was included in the territory over which it was calculated to operate. In consequence the time limit while sufficient for holding an election in a well settled community readily accessible by telegraph railway and trail, is not sufficiently long to admit holding an election in a large and sparsely settled constituency. This fact was shown in the first election in Peace River when the time allowed was too short to enable the Returning Officer to reach the nomination place on the day specified by the writ and another election was necessary which was carried out only by the most careful calculation as to distance and by travelling which broke the records.

When the schedules of the Provincial constituencies were before the House of Commons a year since a determined effort was made to have these two northern constituencies abolished and the territory included in the constituencies lying to the north of the city. The full import of this proposal is revealed by the contest in Peace River. Had such course been adopted it would have been a physical impossibility for the returning officers of the districts to have performed their duties within the time required by law and equally impossible for the candidates to have visited or communicated with the people in the northern portions of their ridings during the brief period between nomination and election. The result of this would have been the practical disfranchisement of the people in the northern districts, either by the impossibility of holding polls on the day required or by forcing them to vote for candidates with whom they were unacquainted and of whose policies or platforms they knew little or nothing. Equally unjust to them would have been the adoption of the proposal to include the Peace River and Athabasca districts in one enormous constituency throughout which it would have been quite as impossible to hold elections and quite as impossible to conduct the campaigns by which the electors are enabled to judge of the merits of the candidates and their platforms.

The suggestions to abolish or to amalgamate the two northern constituencies therefore amounted to a practical if not intentional proposal to deprive the people of the northern portion of the Province of the right to representation in the Provincial Parliament. The free right to the selection of parliamentary representatives is the admitted assurance of liberty and the admitted guarantee of responsible government in British dominions. For securing to them this right the people of Peace River and Athabasca have to thank the Federal government and for the attempt to deprive them of this right they may credit the Federal Opposition. Which while parting with professions of championing the cause of Provincial rights attacked the principle on which all public rights are based and the means by which alone they can be preserved and exercised.

The "Royal Household" Brand on Flour is your protection.

The "Royal Household" brand on a barrel or bag of flour means that Ogilvie guarantee that flour to be the best—that if it is not satisfactory you may return it and get your money back.

Ogilvie stand behind every pound of flour that bears their "Royal Household" Brand.

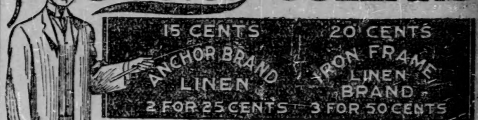

That is your protection.

Most people do not realize the necessity of absolute purity in flour—great care is taken to use only pure milk, pure water, etc., but flour, that one thing that forms the greatest part of their food, is taken on chance—but they are learning better.

As Royal Household Flour is the only flour in this country thoroughly purified and sterilized by electricity it is not worth while to give it at least a trial.

It bears the stamp of the most responsible makers. You can have no better guarantee than the Ogilvie Flour Mills Co.

Tooke COLLARS

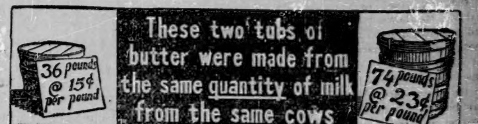

These brands have been worn by the best-dressed Canadians for more than a quarter century. They are the recognized leaders in style and quality.

Specially-made Irish linens of the finest texture, with high-grade, properly shrank interlinings, are the material used.

The workmanship is all expert, and each collar is individually inspected before it leaves the factory.

These two tubs of butter were made from the same quantity of milk from the same cows

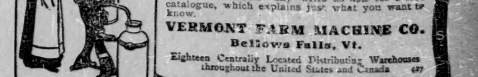

How was it done? Here's the story in the words of a plain honest, hard-working farmer and his wife.

RAYMOND, N.B., JUNE 6, 1905.

We had a water separator, and from twelve cows we made 20 lbs. of butter. The next week we used a No. 6 U. S. Separator and made 24 lbs. from the same cows in the same pasture without any extra feed. We made 210 lbs. the first week after using the machine. We are very much pleased with it, and could not do without it now.

JOHN NEWSON, Mrs. NEWSON.

Are you using any gravity method to skim your milk? If you are, a

U. S. Cream Separator

will do for you what it did for the Newsons. Think what that means—a considerable daily saving in the time and work of handling your milk—from 15 to 16 more butter than you are now getting, and better butter, too, that brings a higher price. You can't afford to put off looking into this matter another day—write us now for a free catalogue, which explains just what you want to know.
